Bobcat Family Connection: Develop Study Habits for Life

The Bobcat Family Connection Series continued with our third event addressing study habits. Parents and students can view this video to learn a few study strategies that are helpful when learning any subject. You will learn how to focus your study time, increase long term retention, reduce test anxiety, and boost assessment scores as a result. These strategies are helpful for in person and/or virtual learning. In fact, you may find that you have more time to practice them during virtual learning which can help build good habits for life and for future course work.
